Lit Up Like A Barn

BURGLARS NABBED IN FIVE HOURS

Wilmington's Town Hall has been brilliantly lit for the past few nights. Gone are the days of turning off the lights, as President Johnson once did in the White House, for the sake of Economy.

It may be called Locking the Barn Door after the Horse is Stolen - but nothing of the sort has happened. Not even any money has been stolen, for every cent in the Town Hall is put in the bank at the close of business every day. The Wilmington Police escort that money to the bank.

But two men who didn't know this tried, last Thursday night, to burgle the Town Hall. Within five hours after they had broken into the two safes in the Town Hall they were in the custody of the Wilmington Police. At least, the Wilmington Police have two men, and they say they are the men.

The crime was discovered at 12:50 am by Officers Willie Lynch and James Burke, while making a routine check of the building. Someone had taken a screen off a back window to the Assessors' office, and broken a pane of glass to gain entry.

Zip, the Police Dog, now in charge of Officer Robert Shelley, was soon at the scene. He scouted the Town Hall, and found no one was inside.

The old Town Hall Safe, dating back to 1912, was a shambles. It is the safe in which the Town Clerk, Mrs Esther Russell, keeps her records - but no money. It has now been consigned to the junk pile.

The new safe, less than two years old, a replacement after a recent but equally unsuccessful burglary attempt, was also ruined, but the burglars were unable to force it open. It was the safe in which the Town Collector keeps her records - and no money!

It too, had to be consigned to the junk pile. The police evidently discovered some good leads, for at 5:30 am two men were arrested in Andover and charged with the burglary.

One possible clue, about which the police are saying nothing, was the fact that a Chapman Road resident was awakened at about two am by two men, who claimed that their car had broken down on Route 93. He called the police, instead, and described the men to the police.

Participating in the night's work under the command of Chief Paul Lynch were Sergeant Herbert Peterson, Detective Daniel Ballou and Patrolmen Lynch, Burke, Shelley and Charles Dolan.

More Chaplains than Cops

FIVE CHAPLAINS: For the Wilmington Police Department, and it was a surprise to all of them. Each of the five Christian clergymen of Wilmington were presented with Police Chaplain's Badges, yesterday at the Rotary Luncheon, by Chief of Police Paul Lynch. Wilmington now is probably the best staffed police department in Massachusetts as far as Chaplains are concerned.

L to R: Rotary President Dick Tufenkjian, Fr. Joseph Leahy of St. Dorothy's Church, Rev. Willis Miller of the Wilmington Methodist Church, Fr. Edmund Croke of St. Thomas Church, Rev. H Allen Tadgell of the Wilmington Congregational Church, Rev. Robert Smith of the First Baptist Church, and Chief of Police Paul Lynch.

Transfer Funds for Andover Road Survey

A sudden influx of new industry into the Andover Road area of Wilmington has produced a crisis in the Engineering Department of the town. The Wilmington Planning Board has voted to advance the sum of $1000 for the necessary surveys, to replace a part of the money which was not voted for this purpose by the annual Town Meeting. The transfer was voted so that the Town Engineer may produce new 'layouts' for the road before the industries which are moving in have built along the old winding road.

At least one firm, the Star Tool & Die Co., Inc. is co-operating fully with the Town Engineer in his efforts to have a proper layout for the street.

Star Tool is erecting a 5800 square foot building, which will employ about 20 persons. The permit for the building was taken out yesterday morning by Sherman Kaufman of Andover, representing the Channel Building Company Inc.

Mr Kaufman told the Town Crier that he will keep the line of the building at least fifty one feet from a line which will probably be the street line after the surveys have been completed, in order to not interfere with the Town Engineer's proposed straightening of Andover Road.

A Paul Whitney of Winchester has purchased, or is about to purchase land on both sides of Andover Street, all part of the old Daly Farm, and all zoned for industry.

It is understood that he has engineers making a Preliminary Plan for an industrial development of sixty acres, on the hill westerly from Andover Street, and opposite the old Daly House. If the town can produce new street plans he will have his engineers conform to those plans, and he has told Town Engineer Arthur Harding that he hopes he can co-operate with the town.

A third industrial development is being planned on ninety acres of land owned by Percy Crocker of Boston. The land abuts that of Whitney, and is to the southward of it. An aerial survey of the property was made last Friday, for Mr. Crocker.

At the present time he has plans for two buildings, to face on Andover Road, to be located northerly of Upton Court and southerly from the two Baldwin residences. More buildings are being planned, to be erected on the streets that are to be laid out in the ninety acre tract.

The Town Engineer is hoping to have co-operation from the two different engineering firms that are making the plans for Whitney, and for Crocker. He is seeking to have the two sets of plans 'mesh together' with relation to proposed roads, water mains, etc., not only for the benefit of the two firms, but for the future benefit of Wilmington.

He has already made a sketch of the proposed changes for Andover Street, but no actual surveying has been done, due to the previous lack of funds.

The layout is for a road sixty feet wide, with curves greatly reduced, from Route 125 to the north end of the Daly Farm.

Democrats Plan Scholarship Supper

The Wilmington Town Democrat Committee is planning a spaghetti supper, at Villanova Hall on June 21, between the hours of 5:30 and 7:30 pm for the purpose of aiding their scholarship fund. The donation, 99 cents, will go entirely to the scholarship fund. Children will be served for 50 cents.

Kay Leverone, of Glen Road, (658-4145) is the ticket chairman and others who are on the scholarship committee are Bill Fay, Eleanor O'Keefe, Bill McCann and Ernie Crispo.

Miss Ann Visconti, chairman of the Democratic Committee has expressed her personal thanks to the committee, who have given their time, efforts and loyal support, and to the friends and neighbors who are helping in the cause.

It is Science Day at North School

It is Science Day today, All Day, for 480 children in the North Intermediate School, starting with an assembly at 8:15 am.

This will be an all day affair for the students with a Drama Band Concert, Choral Group, Art Exhibit, Industrial Art Exhibit, Home Ec Exhibit, and Science Fair being held all day.

The parents are invited to participate in this project in the evening.

There will be nine scientists present from local businesses.

Visiting art teachers will judge the exhibits and fashion consultants from Jordan Marsh will judge the clothing which the students have made. Three visiting Home Ec teachers will judge the cooking. This promises to be unique to the Town. All are invited.

Now It Has Struck

There are those who are disturbed because two men have won from the Board of Selectmen the right to remove 10,000 yards of gravel from some land off Andover Road. It is to be part of an operation in which two homes are to be ultimately built on the site.

True, the men are in the gravel business, and gravel is worth a lot of money today. But they first approached the town in an open and fair manner, getting permits before they started, and that is some thing. They did not operate in the manner of those gravel merchants who first start digging, and then defy the town to stop them. Give them credit for an open and above board approach.

The troubles with which Andover Road finds itself today stems from a period of about eight years ago, when a then Selectman and the then Town Manager chose to disguise the fact that an incoming industry was a small one by having large areas of land rezoned for industry, including both sides of Andover Road.

They were hoping for Lightning to Strike. Now it has Struck.

In the studies in preparation of the 'Model Zoning Law' back about 1955, the Andover Road section was quite correctly foreseen as a place where fine homes could be built.

There were no industries in the area. There were rolling acres of land. The area had a particular attraction in that potential home owners, coming home via Route 93 could drive to their homes without having to go through Industrial Areas - all the way from Boston. It was the kind of terrain in which homes in excess of $50,000 valuation could be built and sold - the kind of homes that are not to be found in Wilmington.

All that was spoiled when the 'Lightning Might Strike' rezoning was put through. Unless an alternative route is found into the residential area of Andover Road in the near future there will be no fine homes there. Wilmington is paying the bill for that re-zoning foolishness, and will be re-paying it for a long long time.

The recent gravel business started when an out of town gravel merchant just moved in, on Andover Road, and started digging. He created quite a mess, and it took Court action to stop him.

Other out of town men own large tracts of land in the immediate area. That is why the Planning Board is so disturbed. They can foresee that those other men are just looking for an excuse for a 'Me Too' operation, and start digging.

The two men who got that recent permit are being gentlemen, but the Planning Board is afraid of what will happen when their fellow gravel merchants get going.

And that land, up near Camp Forty Acres, is still just about the finest in town.

Ballardvale Street

Four or five years ago the Selectmen of Andover and Wilmington discussed the possibility of co-operation on the re-building of Ballardvale Street. The talks at that time failed to produce any action.

Now Reps. Fred Cain and Paul Cronin of Andover have another proposition, which was discussed in an executive session by the Wilmington Selectmen. Andover is offering $25,000 towards Wilmington's cost.

Perhaps there will be some action this time. The Selectmen of Wilmington are thinking it over.

Planning Board

The Wilmington Planning Board, Tuesday night, had a lot to say about some of the streets of Wilmington.

One of those streets was Andover Street. They had been told by the Town Engineer of the plans for widening that street, (see front page story), but more than this the board had words to say about gravel operations.

Daniel Gillis, referring to a granting of a gravel permit by the Board of Selectmen, declared that before long other firms would be 'ther' and over 200,000 yards of gravel would be taken from land that probably included the highest hill in Wilmington.

Mrs Madelyn McKie, chairman read a letter from Professor Charles Elliot, which said in part: (the) gravel permit for the extraction of 10,000 cubic yards from the ridge west of Andover Street - Mr. Gillis thought this would be followed by further gravel operations to remove the whole ridge south of Camp Forty Acres.

'This ridge is the highest point in Wilmington and in its relationship to Foster's Pond constitutes one of the most important landscape, scenic and natural areas in Town. It has been included as a future park, forest or open space on all plans for the Town and Region since the Bay Circuit Plan of 1927; and, of course, is a major feature of the Open Space Plan we are now working on.

'I was really shocked to hear of the action by the Selectmen to permit the ravaging of that area. If they persist in continuing to foster the reputation of Wilmington as a land of destruction and ugly abandoned gravel pits, a healthy and beautiful natural environment for future citizens will be largely nullified. I hope you can persuade the Selectmen to reverse their recent action on that gravel permit'

Mrs McKie declared that she intended to talk with the Selectmen about the questions raised by Prof. Elliot.

The other area that received a lot of attention was Lowell Street and the area to the southward of that street, where roads are being proposed to accommodate coming traffic from Industrial Way, Woburn Street, and the coming industrial development in North Woburn.

The board spent hours on a study of plans with Roy Mann, of Prof. Elliot's office, and later among themselves, in preparation for a talk with the Planning Board of Woburn, to be held sometime in the near future.

Five plans were presented to the board for signatures. Two were not signed.

One that was signed was for land belonging to Rose Pellechia of Lloyd Road. The lot is in two different residential zones, and it presented a problem. After some discussion the board agreed that the plan was good, and should be signed. They solved the problem by resorting to the little used 'Section R' of Chapter 40, General Laws, which allows Planning Boards to go beyond the zoning by-laws, in cases that would be for the general good. It was only the third time that the Wilmington Planning Board has ever used 'Section R'.

Mrs Pellechia was represented by her husband.

The Board signed a plan for Tom Cotter of Jaquith Road, who is seeking to 'Land Court' his property, consisting of about one acre.

Also signed was a plan showing three lots of land on Park Street owned by Daniel Ballou. It had formerly been four lots, but Mr Ballou was making each of the lots larger with 125 feet or more frontage.

A plan to divide a lot of land on Andover Street into two lots, both of which would be less than allowed by the Zoning By Law was not signed, after two motions by Mr Gillis, both of which were unanimously voted.

Also not signed was a plan for land on Church Street, abutting Mill Brook. Gillis moved that it required more study, and the board so voted. In his discussion, Gillis said that a recent variance by the Board of Appeals was for 'over 50%' which greatly exceeds the usual 15%, and further that there would have to be a Hatch Act hearing, because of the Brook.

A letter was received from the Senator Ronald MacKenzie, relative to a proposed law which would give towns and cities control over billboards, after a five year period (Senate 1349). Mr MacKenzie assured the board that he would continue to work for the passage of the bill.

If you're your own yard man, wash your hands immediately after using garden chemicals. They can be transferred from hands to mouth when you stop work for a cool drink.

Highly poisonous garden preparations may also be absorbed through your skin or rubbed into your eyes.

Most fertilizers, weed killers and insecticides are safe to use, but they must be well labeled, properly stored, and carefully applied.

This applies to medicines as well. We at the SILVER LAKE PHARMACY recommend that you label and keep all medications well stored. Select from complete lines of cosmetics, including Clairol, Whitman and Candy Cupboard Chocolates. Silver Lake Pharmacy, 52 Main St., 658-4617.

HELPFUL HINT: To keep a telephone clean, dab a soft cosmetic puff in toilet water and rub clean.

Here it is again the terrifying news...Seems that the Crusaders had a bus parked at Bob's Esso Station on Min Street on Sunday afternoon, and some louse broke in and removed two bugles and two savers...The cost of which totals about $400. As a result, the kids that blow these, will be short those two instruments and won't be able to compete on Saturday night in what was to be their first contest! Return them...To the Depot or the Police Station, and all will be o.k....How about it, fellas?

At Paul Revere Stadium on Saturday night, May 31st, the Crusaders and Sordsmen will be competing in a contest which starts at 5 p.m., and the buses will be leaving the Plaza at 2:35 p.m...

The Crusaders and Sordsmen want to thank the Memorial Day Committee for the invitation to participate in the parade last week and also want to say that it was one of the best Memorial Parades ever held in Wilmington.

Ok, Gals, got your gloves oiled and those arms limbered. Howie says now's the time...Friday night June 6th...Get your club, church or organization to enter the League and report at the Town Park at 6:30 pm on Friday the 6th...There have to be four teams this year, so let's go, gals!

Basketball Town League will be holding Award Night on June 7th at the Cafe in Sweetheart Plastics. There'll be awards for all stars of Jr and Sr divisions and for the most valuable players and their coaches!

Johnnie Gillis, the son of Mr and Mrs Jim Gillis of Federal St is graduating from Bridgton Academy this year, and will enter Springfield College. We hear he is a grad from WHS Class of 68 and received the Football All-Scholastic Team nomination. At Bridgton, he was a linebacker and was named by the Herald to the All-Prep team. Eddie, his brother, who graduates this year from WHS will attend Bridgton next year. The eldest brother, Jimmy is at Springfield now.

And to the lady with the size 12 dresses, Mrs Forest from 155 Lake Street called today and she is managing a rummage sale for the Church of the Latter Day Saints next week, and will be glad to have the clothes...Please call her at 658-4949, and make arrangements with her...and any

Did you note that Fred Cain and Alderman Olmsted of Ward 6 in Woburn are looking into the possibility of a paved pathway and cleanup of the old rail bed from Rt 128 north into No Woburn?

Charlie Shea is the chairman of the Somerville High School Class of 44 which will hold its 25th Reunion at the Statler in Wakefield on June 14th. The committee anticipates that 500 will attend.

They got a new game at the No Wilmington Pharmacy...They have a picture of a young Navy Ensign on the shelf there and they make you contribute a dime to some worthy cause...didn't find out yet what the cause was, but could be the yarn fund, gals?...if you can't guess who it is...

And for the fellas! Paul Ethier is home from the forary in Viet-Nam and he saw Bobby Given and that was over there, and they spent from one in the afternoon until one in the morning gabbing...he said. He also told me that Wayne Christopher left yesterday for over there and Billy Rice should be coming home the Seventh of July...and those three Army boys will be back from South Carolina on Friday am until Sunday night, so we all are looking forward to it with the turkey cooking for the reunion of the Clan!

Johnny Hersom just arrived! He is out for good!

Jackie Baldwin just got back from VietNam on Friday night and is now a Sergeant in the Marines. He is home and freezing-for about 27 days of furlough.

The Crusaders and Sordsmen will be running their annual competition on July 11th in the High School Field at 7 pm. They want to extend an invitation to any WII VietNam Vet, who wishes to go as their guest. They will provide a ticket to him on request. Call 658-9052 and 658-9080...Also, they need some volunteers to work on this...So let's get hopping on this Call those numbers!

There is going to be an open meeting of anyone interested in learning about the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine (CCD) Program at St Dorothy's Church on Sunday, June 1st, in the Church basement. This will follow the 9 am mass. All the regular adult members of CCD are requested to attend the mass and the meeting

And the WHS SENIORS...Your

Banquet will be on Thursday evening, June 12, at 7 pm at the North Intermediate...Seniors and their parents are invited...Tickets are $1.00 for Srs and $2.50 for the Parents and can be purchased from Miss LeBauer in Rm 112 before June 3rd, and I'm glad I got that note...on account of they told me that there was hardly any of the kids to pick up awards at the Jr Banquet...and we were one of the guilty parties, on account of we understand that No 2 daughter received an English award...and didn't find it out until after the banquet was held from a stranger to the Clan...and we didn't even know when that Jr Banquet was held so neither we nor No 2 daughter were present...So...Thank You, Seniors...Much luck etc!

The North Intermediate sent to us a copy of the Memorial Day Exercises...They held them on May 23rd and Luke Tenhave was the Announcer...Pete O'Rourke...was the Flag Bearer, Ed Adams led the Salute...Rob Catalano read the Governor's Proclamation while Nora Pelletier and Mike Tower planted geraniums...Joan Deslongchamps read a poem and the Gettysburg Address, Jaon Bellissimo read a poem about Memorial Day and Guest Speakers were Dan Lesman and Steve Coursey...The Choral Selection was the Battle Hymn of the Republic and a Recording of the 'Ballad of Two Brothers' was played...and the meeting ended with the Star Spangled Banner and a selection by the Band.

The Dedication of the GIRL SCOUTS: On the lawn of the Memorial Library, before the ceremony.

AT THE LIBRARY DOOR: Selectmen of Wilmington, the Town Manager, Trustee Roland Wood, and Commander John Winters, A.I.

To the Girl Scouts of Wilmington went the honor of raising the first U.S. Flag, over the Wilmington Memorial Library, on Monday.

The flag had been presented to the Girl Scouts by United States Senator Edward Brooke, and had flown over the Capital Building.

The exercises were directed by Commander Charles P. Kelley, of the Nee Ellsworth Post, VFW.

Chairman James Banda of the Board of Selectmen spoke briefly, as did Selectman James Miceli, who was speaking for the Wilmington Chapter of the Jaycees of Massachusetts. The Jaycees had presented a Memorial Plaque, to the three Wilmington men who were killed in action in Vietnam during 1958, and who had been voted by the Wilmington Jaycees as the Outstanding Young Men of the Year.

Miss Gayle Case, of Cadette Girl Scout Troop 354 recited "What the American Flag Means to Me". Then Miss Case, assisted by

WILDCATS SNAP LOSING STREAK AT ELEVEN

The Wilmington High School Varsity team lost their eleventh game in a row a week ago yesterday by a 7-6 score to Burlington. On Friday afternoon the Wildcats beat North Andover 6-4, to close the season on a successful note. The boys were leading the Red Devils 5-4 going into the bottom of the sixth, but Burlington pushed across three runs after two were on on two base on balls, and a home run.

Dave O'Connell pitched a five hitter in defeating the Scarlet Knights. He struck out five and walked only two in a route going performance. Senior Jack Irwin led the team as he went 2 for 2 and drove in two runs, which proved to be the deciding edge.

Cement patio blocks are one of the least expensive smooth surfaces you can use for a patio. These are usually 16 inches long, 8 inches wide, and 1 or 2 inches thick. They cost less in the natural cement color than in dyed types.

You can lay them over ordinary ground or bed them in a layer of plain mason's sand.

Either way, you'll need a shovel and a garden trowel to skim the ground level here and there to keep the surface of the of the blocks even.

GIRL SCOUTS OF TROOP 215: Paid a surprise visit to the Town Hall last Friday, and Sterling Morris gallantly showed them how a Town Manager and a Town Hall works for the town.

Letter

May 27, 1969

Dear Larz:

In your last edition you spoke of model zoning laws in the Town of Wilmington. I would like to ask you what good model zoning laws are, if there is no enforcement of them?

At the corner of High Street and Middlesex Avenue there is what I would describe as a business, operating openly, and the Town Manager and also Mrs Drew, both admit it is operating in violation of the zoning laws.

The Town Manager says he has not had enough complaints, yet I should think one would be enough, since he says it is a violation. Mrs Drew says she has talked with some of the neighbors, and they say that the business does not bother them. Of course nobody likes trouble with neighbors, but I think it would bother them if they realized what a business operating next to them means to the value of their property.

If the town is not going to enforce the zoning laws, then they might as well tear them up, for they are just smoke writing in the sky.

Rodney E Buck

Does the overnight parking of trucks constitute operating a business? Ed.
